

Dungeon Festival in the Library

December 2024
Issue 115

On Saturday 30th November, 110 students came to the library for our 3rd Annual DungeonFest! Students played D&D for over 4.5 hours with experienced Dungeon Masters!

We also had competitive Warhammer painter Neil Hollis in house to deliver painting workshops, music, snacks and a lot of prizes! It was a fantastic day with a lot of laughs!

Math's week

This week at Glenthorne we celebrated Maths Week, which included a wide variety of activities in lessons:

Year 7 Problem solving skills (code breaking)

Year 8 Number system across history – including Roman Numerals, Binary Coding and Mayan System

Year 9 Is beauty truly linked to one sequence of numbers (Golden Ratio)

Year 10 A race across London using tube maps (virtually)

During lunch, we held an escape room, Dingbats and the every popular Pi recital challenge. The best score for which was 81 places this year recited flawlessly!
